Part 1 — Medicare Pitches

Each pitch has three alternate versions. Headings use the requested naming format, such as Introduction_Pitch_V1.

Introduction_Pitch_V1

Script:

Good morning, my name is Della. I'm reaching out to speak with residents in your area about reviewing their current Medicare coverage and understanding what benefits may be available to them. I'd just like to ask you a couple of quick questions to see if a review might be helpful.

Introduction_Pitch_V2

Hello, this is Della. I'm calling today because we're helping people understand their Medicare coverage and explore options that may fit their healthcare needs. I just need to ask you a few brief questions to see whether this information may be relevant to you.

Introduction_Pitch_V3

Hi there, my name is Della. The reason for my call is to discuss Medicare coverage reviews with individuals who may want to better understand their current benefits and available options. Do you have a moment for a couple of quick questions?

Age_Ask_V1

Script:

To make sure we're discussing the right coverage options, may I ask if you're currently 65 or older?

Age_Ask_V2

Before we go any further, could you tell me if you've reached the age of 65? I'm asking because age can help determine which Medicare options may apply to you.

Age_Ask_V3

Just so I can better understand your eligibility, are you 65 or above at this time?

Medicare_Status_V1

Script:

Thank you. Let me ask you this: are you already enrolled in Medicare, or are you still waiting for your coverage to begin?

Medicare_Status_V2

Just to get a clearer picture of your situation, do you currently have Medicare coverage, or have you not enrolled yet?

Medicare_Status_V3

And are you actively using Medicare at the moment, or are you still in the process of signing up?

Medicare_Parts_Confirmation_V1

Script:

Great, just to confirm, do you currently have both Medicare Part A and Part B? That helps us understand which coverage options may be available to you.

Medicare_Parts_Confirmation_V2

I appreciate that. Do you have both parts of Original Medicare, meaning Part A for hospital coverage and Part B for medical services?

Medicare_Parts_Confirmation_V3

Before we discuss anything further, can you confirm whether you're enrolled in both Medicare Part A and Medicare Part B?

Current_Plan_V1

Script:

Thank you for confirming. Are you currently using Original Medicare directly, or have you chosen a Medicare Advantage plan through a private insurance company?

Current_Plan_V2

I'd like to understand your current coverage a little better. Do you have Original Medicare, or are your benefits provided through a Medicare Advantage plan?

Current_Plan_V3

And which type of Medicare coverage do you currently have: Original Medicare or Medicare Advantage, sometimes called Part C?

Coverage_Satisfaction_V1

Script:

Many people's healthcare needs change over time, so it's useful to check whether their coverage still works for them. Are you satisfied with your current plan, or is there anything you'd like to improve?

Coverage_Satisfaction_V2

When it comes to your Medicare coverage, do you feel your current plan meets your needs, or would you be interested in reviewing other available options?

Coverage_Satisfaction_V3

I'd like to get your perspective on your current coverage. Are you happy with the benefits you're receiving, or are there any gaps or concerns you'd like to address?

Monthly_Premium_V1

Script:

Healthcare expenses can add up, so monthly costs are worth considering. Do you feel comfortable with the premium you're paying for your current plan, separate from any applicable Medicare Part B premium?

Monthly_Premium_V2

Let me ask you about the cost of your coverage. Are your current monthly premiums manageable, or would you like to understand the costs associated with other available plans?

Monthly_Premium_V3

When you think about your Medicare expenses, are you satisfied with what you pay each month for your plan, including any premiums that apply to your coverage?

Prescription_Coverage_V1

Script:

Prescription costs are an important part of healthcare for many people. Does your current plan cover the medications you need, or would you like to review your prescription coverage?

Prescription_Coverage_V2

I'd also like to ask about your medication needs. Are your regular prescriptions covered under your current plan at a cost you're comfortable with?

Prescription_Coverage_V3

When it comes to prescription drugs, do you feel your current Medicare coverage gives you the protection you need, or is this an area you'd like to look into further?

Doctor_Network_V1

Script:

Keeping access to your preferred doctors is important when choosing coverage. Are your current doctors included in your plan, and are you satisfied with the access you have?

Doctor_Network_V2

Let me ask about your healthcare providers. Are you able to continue seeing the doctors and specialists you prefer under your current Medicare plan?

Doctor_Network_V3

One thing people often consider is whether their plan lets them visit their preferred doctors and hospitals. Has your current coverage been meeting those needs?

Dental_Vision_Hearing_V1

Script:

I'd also like to understand what additional benefits matter to you. Does your current plan meet your needs for dental, vision, and hearing services?

Dental_Vision_Hearing_V2

Some Medicare Advantage plans may include benefits for services like dental care, eye exams, glasses, or hearing aids. Do you currently have coverage for these services, or would you like to review what's available?

Dental_Vision_Hearing_V3

Beyond regular medical care, are dental, vision, and hearing benefits important to you when considering your Medicare coverage?

Additional_Coverage_V1

Script:

To better understand your current setup, do you have any additional coverage, such as a Medicare Supplement policy or a separate prescription drug plan?

Additional_Coverage_V2

Besides your main Medicare coverage, are you enrolled in a Medigap plan or any separate insurance that helps with prescription costs?

Additional_Coverage_V3

Could you tell me whether you have any supplemental coverage in addition to Medicare, or are you relying entirely on your current Medicare plan?

Out_Of_Pocket_Costs_V1

Script:

Apart from monthly premiums, deductibles and copayments can affect your overall healthcare costs. Are you comfortable with the amount you currently pay when you receive medical care?

Out_Of_Pocket_Costs_V2

When you visit a doctor or receive treatment, do your out-of-pocket expenses generally fit your budget, or would you like to explore other options?

Out_Of_Pocket_Costs_V3

I'd like to understand how your plan works for you financially. Are you satisfied with your current deductibles, copayments, and other costs for covered services?

Benefits_Review_V1

Script:

Based on what you've shared, reviewing your coverage may be worthwhile. Would you be interested in checking whether other plans available in your area better match your healthcare needs and budget?

Benefits_Review_V2

It may be helpful to compare your current coverage with other options for which you qualify. Would you like to learn more about the plans and benefits available in your area?

Benefits_Review_V3

If there are options that better fit your priorities, it could be useful to understand them before making any decisions. Would you be open to reviewing your available Medicare coverage choices?

Licensed_Agent_Transfer_V1

Script:

If you'd like to explore your options, I can help connect you with a licensed Medicare insurance agent who can explain the plans available to you. Would you be interested in speaking with one?

Licensed_Agent_Transfer_V2

The next step, if you're comfortable, would be to speak with a licensed agent who can answer your questions and review plan details with you. Would you like me to help arrange that?

Licensed_Agent_Transfer_V3

A licensed Medicare agent can help you compare eligible plans, coverage details, and costs based on your needs. Would you be open to having a conversation with an agent?

Closing_Pitch_V1

Script:

Thank you for your time today. We want to help you understand your current Medicare coverage and the options that may be available to you. Have a wonderful day.

Closing_Pitch_V2

I appreciate you taking a few moments to speak with me. If you decide to explore your options, a licensed agent can help explain the details so you can make an informed decision. Thank you, and enjoy the rest of your day.

Closing_Pitch_V3

Thank you for answering my questions. I appreciate your time. If you'd like to learn more about your Medicare options, we can help you take the next step. Have a great day!

Part 2 — 20 Customer Rebuttals

Each rebuttal includes a sample customer objection and three suggested responses. If the customer clearly declines or asks to stop being called, respect the request rather than continuing to persuade them.

Rebuttal_Already_Have_Insurance

Customer: I already have insurance.

Answer_V1:

Absolutely, and that's good to know. The purpose of my call isn't to assume you need new coverage, but simply to see whether your current Medicare plan still meets your needs. Would you be open to a quick review?

Answer_V2:

I understand. Many people we speak with already have Medicare coverage. We're simply helping them understand their existing benefits and any other options they may qualify for. Would that information be useful to you?

Answer_V3:

Of course, I understand. Keeping your current plan may be the right choice. We just want to help you understand what's available so you can make an informed decision. Would you be interested in learning more?

Rebuttal_Not_Interested

Customer: I'm not interested.

Answer_V1:

I understand, and I appreciate you letting me know. Before I let you go, would you mind sharing whether you're happy with your current coverage or simply not looking to make any changes right now?

Answer_V2:

No problem at all. I'm not asking you to change your plan today. I just wanted to offer information about reviewing your current coverage. If you're not interested, I completely respect that.

Answer_V3:

I understand. I don't want to take up your time unnecessarily. Thank you for speaking with me, and I hope you have a wonderful day.

Rebuttal_Busy_Right_Now

Customer: I'm busy right now.

Answer_V1:

I completely understand. I know your time is valuable. Would another time be more convenient for a brief conversation?

Answer_V2:

No problem at all. I don't want to interrupt your day. Would you prefer that we arrange a callback at a more suitable time?

Answer_V3:

Of course, I understand. I can let you get back to what you were doing. Is there a better time for us to reach you, if you'd like a follow-up?

Rebuttal_Send_Information

Customer: Just send me some information.

Answer_V1:

Certainly. The information that's most relevant depends on your current Medicare coverage and location. Would you be comfortable answering a couple of quick questions so we can direct you to the appropriate information?

Answer_V2:

Absolutely. I'd want to make sure the information is relevant to your situation rather than send you something that may not apply. Are you currently enrolled in both Medicare Part A and Part B?

Answer_V3:

I understand. We can help you identify where to find information about available plans. Is there a particular benefit or type of coverage you'd like to learn more about?

Rebuttal_Happy_With_Current_Plan

Customer: I'm happy with my current plan.

Answer_V1:

That's great to hear. If your current plan meets your needs, there may be no reason to change it. Would you still like to know how to review your benefits and confirm that your coverage continues to meet your needs?

Answer_V2:

I'm glad you're satisfied with your coverage. A review doesn't mean you have to switch plans. It can simply help you understand your current benefits and available options.

Answer_V3:

That's good news. Keeping the coverage that works for you is important. Thank you for sharing that with me, and I respect your decision if you'd prefer not to review anything further.

Rebuttal_Dont_Change_My_Plan

Customer: I don't want to change my plan.

Answer_V1:

I completely understand. There's no need to make a change just because you're reviewing your options. Would you be interested in learning about your current benefits without any commitment?

Answer_V2:

That's absolutely fine. Reviewing available information doesn't require you to enroll in a different plan. You can keep your current coverage if that's what works best for you.

Answer_V3:

I understand, and I respect that. My goal is to provide information, not pressure you into changing anything. We can leave things as they are if that's your preference.

Rebuttal_Is_This_A_Scam

Customer: Is this a scam?

Answer_V1:

That's a fair question, and I'm glad you're being careful. You should never share your Medicare number, Social Security number, banking details, or other sensitive information until you've independently verified who you're speaking with.

Answer_V2:

I understand your concern. You deserve to know who is contacting you and why. I can identify the organization I'm calling on behalf of, and you can independently verify its credentials before deciding whether to continue.

Answer_V3:

It's sensible to be cautious with insurance calls. You don't have to provide personal or financial information during this conversation. If you'd prefer to verify everything independently first, I completely understand.

Rebuttal_How_Did_You_Get_My_Number

Customer: How did you get my number?

Answer_V1:

That's a reasonable question. I don't want to give you inaccurate information about the source of your number. I can direct you to the organization responsible for the call so you can ask how your contact information was obtained.

Answer_V2:

I understand your concern about privacy. The organization I represent should be able to explain the source of your contact information and how it is being used.

Answer_V3:

That's completely understandable. Your privacy matters, and I don't want to speculate about how your number was obtained. If you'd like, we can end the call while you verify the organization independently.

Rebuttal_Have_Medicare_Advantage

Customer: I already have Medicare Advantage.

Answer_V1:

Thank you for clarifying that. Medicare Advantage plans can differ in their provider networks, costs, and covered benefits. Would you be interested in reviewing your current plan without any obligation to switch?

Answer_V2:

I understand. Since you're already enrolled in Medicare Advantage, the relevant question is whether your current plan continues to meet your needs. Is there anything about your coverage you'd like to review?

Answer_V3:

That's helpful to know. You may already have coverage that works well for you. If you'd like, a licensed agent can explain other available options and help you compare them with your current plan.

Rebuttal_Have_Original_Medicare

Customer: I have Original Medicare.

Answer_V1:

Thank you for letting me know. Original Medicare and Medicare Advantage work differently, and coverage options depend on your circumstances. Would you like to learn more about the types of coverage you may be eligible to consider?

Answer_V2:

Understood. With Original Medicare, some people also consider supplemental coverage or a separate prescription drug plan. Would you be interested in learning about these options?

Answer_V3:

I appreciate that information. We can help direct you to resources explaining how Original Medicare works and what additional coverage may be available to you, if any.

Rebuttal_Dont_Pay_Anything

Customer: I don't pay anything for my plan.

Answer_V1:

I understand. Some plans have a zero-dollar monthly plan premium, although other costs may still apply. Would you like to review the details of your current coverage to understand what services and expenses are included?

Answer_V2:

That's good to know. A zero-dollar plan premium doesn't necessarily mean every healthcare service is free. If you're interested, a licensed agent can help explain your plan's costs and benefits.

Answer_V3:

I see. If your current plan is working well for you, that's important. Would you like information about how to check your benefits and any applicable out-of-pocket costs?

Rebuttal_Dont_Give_Personal_Information

Customer: I'm not giving you my personal information.

Answer_V1:

That's completely understandable. You shouldn't feel pressured to share sensitive information. We can keep the conversation general, and you can verify the organization independently before deciding whether to proceed.

Answer_V2:

I respect that. You don't need to disclose sensitive details just to ask general questions about Medicare. If a plan review requires additional information, you can decide whether to provide it through an appropriate, verified process.

Answer_V3:

Of course. Protecting your personal information is important. We can end the call here if you prefer, and you can use official Medicare resources to research your options independently.

Rebuttal_Ask_Family

Customer: I need to talk to my family first.

Answer_V1:

Of course. It's perfectly reasonable to discuss healthcare decisions with your family. Would it be helpful to gather general information first so you have something accurate to review together?

Answer_V2:

I understand. You should feel comfortable with any decision you make. There's no need to decide anything during this call, and you can discuss the options with your family first.

Answer_V3:

Absolutely. Taking time to consider your options is sensible. If you'd like, you can speak with a licensed agent later after you've had a chance to discuss everything with your family.

Rebuttal_Already_Spoke_To_Agent

Customer: I've already spoken to an insurance agent.

Answer_V1:

Thank you for letting me know. If you've already reviewed your options with an agent, you may have the information you need. Is there anything specific you'd still like clarified?

Answer_V2:

I understand. You don't need to repeat a process you've already completed. If you'd like a second explanation of your existing options, you can request one, but that's entirely up to you.

Answer_V3:

That's helpful to know. If your questions have already been answered, I won't take up more of your time. Thank you for speaking with me.

Rebuttal_Dont_Take_Medications

Customer: I don't take any medications.

Answer_V1:

Understood. Prescription coverage is only one part of Medicare. Other factors, such as provider access, premiums, and out-of-pocket costs, may also matter. Would you like to review any of those areas?

Answer_V2:

That's good to know. Everyone has different healthcare needs, so medication coverage may not be a priority for you. Is keeping your preferred doctors or understanding your other healthcare costs more important?

Answer_V3:

I understand. We can focus on the parts of your coverage that matter to you, rather than prescription benefits. If you're not interested in a review, that's completely fine too.

Rebuttal_Dont_Need_Dental

Customer: I don't need dental or vision benefits.

Answer_V1:

That's perfectly fine. Dental and vision coverage isn't a priority for everyone. Are there other aspects of your Medicare coverage, such as provider access or out-of-pocket costs, that you'd like to review?

Answer_V2:

I understand. We don't have to focus on those benefits. If you decide to review your coverage, we can concentrate on the services and costs that are most relevant to you.

Answer_V3:

Of course. Everyone's priorities are different. If dental and vision aren't important to you, we can leave those aside and focus on your other questions, if you have any.

Rebuttal_Is_It_Free

Customer: Is this coverage free?

Answer_V1:

The cost depends on the specific plan and your eligibility. Some plans may have a zero-dollar monthly plan premium, but deductibles, copayments, and other costs can still apply. A licensed agent can explain the details of a particular plan.

Answer_V2:

That's an important question. I wouldn't want to promise that coverage is free without checking the specific plan and your circumstances. Would you like to learn how to verify the premiums and out-of-pocket costs?

Answer_V3:

It depends on the coverage you're considering. A plan may have no additional monthly premium but still include other costs. Any specific costs and benefits should be confirmed before you enroll.

Rebuttal_Called_Before

Customer: You've called me before.

Answer_V1:

I'm sorry if our contact has been repetitive. I understand that repeated calls can be frustrating. Would you like to continue discussing Medicare information, or would you prefer not to receive further calls from this organization?

Answer_V2:

Thank you for letting me know. I don't want to inconvenience you with repeated contact. If you'd like us to stop calling, I can follow the appropriate process for recording that request.

Answer_V3:

I understand, and I apologize for the inconvenience. Your preference matters. If you don't want further calls, I'll respect that and follow the applicable do-not-call procedure.

Rebuttal_Not_Eligible

Customer: I don't think I qualify.

Answer_V1:

Eligibility can depend on several factors, including age, Medicare enrollment, and individual circumstances. I don't want to make assumptions, but a qualified representative or official Medicare resource can help clarify your situation.

Answer_V2:

I understand. Medicare eligibility isn't determined by age alone in every situation. If you'd like, we can direct you to reliable information to help you understand the eligibility requirements that may apply to you.

Answer_V3:

That's understandable. Rather than guess about your eligibility, it's best to confirm your circumstances through an appropriate source. You don't need to continue the conversation if you'd prefer not to.

Rebuttal_Remove_Me_From_List

Customer: Remove me from your calling list.

Answer_V1:

I understand, and I apologize for the inconvenience. I'll follow the appropriate process to record your request not to receive further calls from this organization. Thank you for letting me know.

Answer_V2:

Of course. I respect your preference and will follow the applicable do-not-call procedure. I won't continue the Medicare discussion with you. Have a good day.

Answer_V3:

Understood. I'll record your request according to our procedures so the organization can process it appropriately. Thank you for your time, and goodbye.
